ITEM	DISCUSSION	OUTCOME
1. Minutes	Review of Minutes from September 12, 2018	Minutes from Spring 2018 will be sent to members via email and then forwarded to SPAS
2. Committee Membership	The combining of SSSP, BSI, and Student Equity monies will mean changes for the committee going forward, per J Ocampo. Discussions are taking place across campus. There are questions about representatives from Counseling, Chemistry, Continuing Ed, SSSP coordinator. J Ocampo pushed members to ensure the Committee remains a faculty-driven committee.	These departments will check on representation.
3. READ Course Placement	D Rowley presented a proposal for using GPA for placement into READ classes starting with Winter 2019. She also noted the need for data collection to start immediately so that student success can be determined.	D Rowley will check with IT to see when the new process could possibly be in place.
4. Updates on AQ:	A. Math – D Beydler presented a new proposal for placement which would open up access into entry-level, transfer-level math courses. Discussion ensued about the best ways to get students to use the	Ongoing discussions in departments.

	resources available to them (links, videos) to make the best placement decisions for themselves. B. English – Ned Weidner presented the English idea of using guided self-placement in the near future. English is working on a video to help students make smart decisions about placement. C. AMLA – E Hill-Enriquez discussed the idea of NNES students using guided self-placement instead of the AWE in the near future. Students would use the resources of sample writing handout, sample reading handout, questionnaire, and counseling to make placement decisions. E Hill-Enriquez voiced the need for a feedback loop of information involving Counseling/Advising and the departments of AMLA, English, LERN, and Math to keep all parties informed about student issues as we move into the first semesters of the new AQ placement processing. Student experiences need to be heard by all. D. RIE – M Tsai reported that there are many requests for success data coming from departments. Discussion ensued about Bridge and Learning Community data collection.
