	Professional Development (PD) planning for 2022-23 Continuation - Training/Workshops (All)	only grant in the US to offer faculty this certification to support faculty to change their teaching using a cultural lens. Spoke about the 5 goals. One Book, One Campus – Illegally Yours, Rafael Agustin, came to speak on campus. Classified have signed up for the free book and some expressed an interest in participating in a reading/discussion group. Title V will support classified staff to help them learn how to close the achievement gap. How can Title V support classified staff in tangible ways to support in their professional development? ITEL – inclusive practices for equitable learning – earn micro-certificate in 10 weeks, Title V is funding a faculty cohort in the spring and thinking/working on developing curriculum for classified and management cohorts. Title V is asking for support in marketing this cohort (up to 30 members) to support the DEISA goal for the campus. $600.00/person and Title V will be paying for this PD opportunity. JJ shared about participating in a summit on outcomes and solutions several years ago and asked if this is something that would be funded and supported by Title V. LR responded, it will depend on the content and as long as there is a student focus component the proposal could be vetted and submitted for funding or co-funding. JJ is welcome to reach and speak with LR about this proposal. Committee discussion – RA indicated that the course on Anti-racism and bias is interesting and is something that needs to be shared with CSEA members. It would apply to all classified and confidential. JL indicated there is a need to address biases and racism since it is a big topic and happens everywhere and could be related to attitudes in how people interact.
