MEChA de MT. SAC

27th Annual MEChA National Conference

February 27th to March 1st, 2020

Arizona State University MEChA, Movimiento Estudiantil Chicax de Aztlán, will be hosting the 27th annual MEChA National Conference, also known as MEChA Nationals on Feb. 27 to Mar. 1 2020. At this conference, MEChA de Mt. SAC will present scholarship on the student work that it has taken up alongside Associated Students, such as the Restoration of the Fountain dedicated to the Indigenous Peoples of the world, the push for Ethnic Studies at Mt. SAC, and the push for a Latinx/Chicax Student Support Program also known as El Centro. Mt. SAC students will also be discussing our current work regarding the creation of a Womxn of Color Initiative within MEChA and the few similarities and large differences that it would have as supposed to MMI in terms of intergenerational healing, self-worth, dedication to our progress, and networking amongst others. Attending the MEChA Nationals Conference is also an opportunity to talk about how Mt. SAC culture has allowed the space for an Undocu-Chair position, due to Mt. SAC's support of the DREAM Program, in Arizona where advocacy is needed.

Goals

1. Co-Curricular Engagement: The MEChA Nationals Conference benefits Mt. SAC students as it heavily revolves around issues belonging to Gender Studies, Political Science, Ethnic Studies, Sociology, Anthropology, and Organizing Studies along with Environmental Justice and Indigenous Rights Issues. MEChA attendees will have the chance to further engage in their respective majors and fields of interest in a Nationwide conference.
2. Leadership Development: Students will present at the national conference on the movements that have been organized at Mt. SAC. Also, students will expand their leadership skills by learning and listening to other organizations and speakers. Upon return, students will engage in the opportunity to apply and share what is learned during the conference.

3. Retention & Transfer: Students will get the opportunity to network, participate in a four-year university setting. This will inform how students will see themselves in their future university setting. Also, MEChA de Mt. SAC students will have the opportunity to represent Mt SAC at the national stage. Students will also become familiar with Arizona State University over the course of 3-4 days.
4. Recognition of Service: Student movements at Mt. SAC (the Restoration of the Fountain Dedicated to the Indigenous Peoples of the World, for the push towards a Gender Studies and Ethnic Studies Department, for a Latinx Chicanx Support Program) led by MEChA de Mt SAC and supported by Associated Students through resolutions will be presented during workshops. These achievements will be noted by conference participants, some of whom are still working towards similar goals.
5. Civic Engagement and Advocacy: Students and Faculty will learn about the resilience, skills, dedication, and strategies that grassroots organizations have developed in Arizona. As a recap, Arizona has a history of banning multicultural curriculum, literature, and passed SB 1070, the bill that allowed people to hold a racial bias towards undocumented immigrants and allow their deportation without the need for a crime. This new perspective is vital for developing advocacy skills as oftentimes Southern California culture can skew the reality of social, political, environmental progress. Students will use these lessons to share how student leadership can inform campus services regarding how to support the success of working class students of color.

MEChA National Conference Budget

02/27/20 - 03/01/20

Purpose

Arizona State University MEChA will be hosting the 27th annual MEChA National Conference, also known as MEChA Nationals.

At this conference, MEChA de Mt. SAC will present on the movements that it has taken up alongside Associated Students, such as the Restoration of the Fountain dedicated to the Indigenous Peoples of the world, the push for Ethnic Studies at Mt. SAC, and the push for a Latinx Chicax Student Support Program. We will also be discussing our current work in starting a Womxn of Color

Initiative within MEChA and the few similarities and large differences that it would have as supposed to MMI in terms of generational healing, self-worth, dedication to our progress, and networking amongst others. This is also an opportunity to talk about how Mt. SAC culture has allowed the space for an Undocu-Chair position, due to its support towards the DREAM center, in Arizona where movements like these are largely needed. This conference allows for students to experience recognition of service, further inform ourselves on: what civic engagement and advocacy of issues looks outside of Southern California, visit a university campus, enrich our co-curricular engagement, and further expand our leadership.
